GOVERNOR SENT TROOPS PROMPTLY

Adjutant-General Anderson Remained in Norfolk in Close Touch.

ALL QUIET AT ONANCOCK NOW

Military Men Selected to Compete for Membership on State Team for Rifle Practice.

Adjutant-General Charles J. Anderson returned yesterday from Norfolk, where he went to assist Governor Swanson in handling the Onancock situation.

General Anderson did not go to the scene of the riot, but stayed at the seaside city and handled the military end from that point. He knew nothing of his own personal knowledge concerning what had happened in the town, but was in close touch with the troops, and responded promptly when the Governor called upon him. His Excellency's telegram to the Adjutant-General calling for militia to be sent to Onancock was as follows:

"Onancock, August 12. "General Charles J. Anderson, Monticello Hotel, Norfolk, Va. "Send about 50 soldiers here under control of good officers. Leave on 6 o'clock boat. Get back at 7 o'clock. No riot, but thought advisable to have them here for several days."

"CLAUDE A. SWANSON, Governor."

General Anderson promptly summoned Colonel Nottingham and Major Wright, of Norfolk, the adjutant of the Seventy-first Infantry, and had the necessary troops ready to depart on the next boat via Cape Charles and the N. & P. and N. E. R. to Onancock. Here is a copy of the Adjutant-General's reply to the Governor:

"Norfolk, Va., August 12. "Governor Claude A. Swanson, Tuxley, Va. "Nottingham and fifty officers and men on Monday morning. Twenty more men to-morrow morning. Yes, you command to Major Wright. I leave for Richmond to-night."

"CHARLES J. ANDERSON."

So far as could be learned at the offices of the Governor and Adjutant-General yesterday there had been no further outbreak, and none was expected.

Men Are Selected. General Anderson has issued the following orders, designating the men who are to compete for membership on the state rifle team at Camp Perry (Ohio) rifle match:

Colonel Dempsey will assume command, and will be obeyed accordingly. The following named officers and enlisted men of the Virginia volunteers will compose the competitors from the different infantry organizations:

Mrs. Moore's Funeral Conducted at Catholic Church—Personal and Briefs.

Last night at the Central Methodist Church of Manchester, the Methodist Union of Manchester was formed. Mayor Maurice, of Manchester, introduced Mayor Carlton McCarthy, who was the orator of the occasion. Mr. James P. Jones was elected president of the union. The object of the union is to unify the 1,500 Methodists of Manchester in church extension, evangelistic work and in the direction of moral reforms. Mayor McCarthy spoke on the moral government, insisting that a moral and religious basis was necessary on the absolute necessity of preservation of the American Sunday. He said that the most pleasing occurred in Richmond in recent years so destructive of the moral welfare of the city as the opening of Idlewood on Sunday.

The union settled down for business after the address was closed, and elected J. P. Jones, president; and Messrs. S. D. Owens, A. L. Thomas and J. W. Craze, vice-presidents. J. L. Pittman was elected secretary, while M. A. Campbell was elected treasurer. The union adjourned to meet on the second Thursday in September. GOOD BILL AT IDLEWOOD

JENNY CONCHAS AND HER TRAINED DOGS.

This week's bill at the open-air theatre in Idlewood is one of the most enjoyable yet offered at that resort. Jenny Conchas, a trained dog, and her dogs, leads and furnishes twenty different "stunts" and go through their parts without hesitation. The three Ozards, in an acrobatic act, introduce many new features. Their feats of strength are unusual. Sleight and Ventriloquism are also featured. The dogs are clever. One of the couple has only one leg, but shows himself a splendid athlete. He jumps five chairs, and does many tricks that would be very creditable to one possessed of both legs and paws.

The new pictures, "An Unexpected Meal" and "Rehabilitation," are interesting.

tioned, and that a balance be stated by the respective departments at the beginning of each fiscal year of the city, from which a comparative statement may be made of the result obtained in the respective departments each year. Said committee shall also report what, in their judgment, would be a proper appropriation and necessary for the maintenance of these departments, respectively, the same to be included in the annual statement rendered to the Council of the city of Richmond.

The Mayor's veto of the St. John's Church ordinance, already printed, was tabled on account of the lack of sufficient votes to pass upon it.

City Collector's Office. In response to a resolution of the Council, calling for information as to the gross and net income of the office of City Collector for the year 1906, Captain Frank W. Cunningham submitted the following, which was received by the Council:

Gross compensation received during year.....	$8,546.58
Permanent employees.....	1,100—4,705.00
Salary.....	$1,500
S. D. Cook.....	720
J. S. Wilkinson.....	720
Temporary employees.....	1,260
Premium on bond.....	125
Sums paid for incident.....	1,100—4,705.00
Net compensation.....	$4,141.58
Amount paid Treasurer, 1906, $1,415.42.....

The following statement came from the office of the Collector of Delinquent Taxes, in response to a similar resolution of the Council:

Gross compensation.....	$4,091.52
H. L. Hulce, compensation.....	$900.00
Premium on bond.....	20.00
Office expenses (incl. dental).....	350.00—1,270.00

Prompt Concurrence. It was 9:20 P. M. when the clerk read the Hobson joint resolution, calling for an investigation into the alleged tampering with bids for wood at the City Home, and the Board had a moment to concur.

There was no roll-call; no objection, and when the President put the question, every member answered "Aye."

Colonel Cutshaw's Reply. At a recent meeting the Aldermen adopted a resolution directing the Engineer to report to the Board: (1) An itemized statement of the cost to the city to complete a private contract of Red and Brother's annexed work; (2) The itemized cost for entire work to be done by his department, including any work in connection with the work to be done by the Board last night in reply, and it reads in part as follows:

"Unless this work is estimated, as submitted at the time, was $20,974.26, or a monthly expenditure of $1,747.85, including that which would take work in the city to complete this work with two parties."

As the bids of Messrs. Red and Brother, for the annexed work, were $3,500 (the city furnishing the stones) in one case, and $10,600 (for everything) in the second case, for doing an annexed work, the details of the make-up of their parties and the list of materials they propose using in their work, and the details of the sort of comparison of their bids with the estimate submitted by this office. Without such detail information in their bids, I cannot say to what extent the work they contemplate doing covers or agrees with what was proposed to be done under our estimate.

Unless the work in the annexed territory is undertaken jointly by a city force and the parties bidding to do the work, I do not see how they could avoid doing over the work twice. To make a lump sum expenditure of $10,600, and then to go over it to determine whether the work is done or not, certainly would be doing the work twice, and this could only be avoided by having the parties doing the work jointly together."

When this letter had been read and tabled, the Board adjourned to meet in special session on August 21st.
